Applicants wish to thank the Examiner for the courtesies extended to Applicants' representative during a series of telephonic interviews conducted to advance the present application to issuance. During the interviews, no agreement was reached regarding the claims.

U.S. Patent No. 6,009,439 (Shiomi) discloses a tree structure of words stored in a thesaurus (See Fig. 6). Using this tree structure, Shiomi disclosing classifying data into groups with an attribute based on the relationships established by the tree structure. Shiomi fails to disclose or suggest extracting common text data forming common meta-data from the multiple kinds of meta-data included in data files existing in a directory and generating directory meta-data for the directory by using the extracted common text data. For example, it is apparent that, in Fig. 6 the text string "MEAT" is not extracted as common text data from the text strings "PORK", "BEEF" and "CHICKEN".
